NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP).—On the eve of the first presidential election in which a third-term bid has been made, Wendell L. Willkie proposed today a constitutional amendment limiting the service of any president to eight years or less.

Before making three last minute radio appeals to the American voters, the Republican presidential nominee said in a statement that if the "common law against a third term be repealed," there would be no law to restrain President Roosevelt "or any of his successors, elected, hereditary or appointed, from any indefinite number of terms."

"When elected," Willkie said, "in order to prevent any subsequent demonstrations of such ambitious views, in my first message to Congress I shall recommend that they submit a constitutional amendment limiting the time any one President may serve to eight years or less."

In another statement calling on all voters to take part in tomorrow's election, Willkie reiterated a declaration made to the Republican National Convention and to Saturday night's Madison Square Garden rally.

"I stand before you without a single pledge, promise or understanding of any kind," he said, "except for the advancement of your
